SAFAHI PUBLISHING

Capability Statement

SOFTWARE · AI · TECHNICAL WRITING · TRANSLATION

COMPANY OVERVIEW

Safahi Publishing LLC builds software and writes what goes with it: the documentation, the training material and the translations. We take small projects directly and work as a subcontractor to larger IT firms.

CORE COMPETENCIES

- Software development: web, iOS and Android applications, backends and APIs, from design through release.
- AI applications: assistants that answer from your own documents, retrieval, prompt management across AI providers, and guardrails on what the system will and will not say.
- Cloud backends: cloud databases and backends for web and mobile apps, and connecting apps to AI providers.
- Analytics strategy: AI and data-analytics roadmaps, platform selection and KPI design.
- Technical writing: user guides, system documentation, training material, and plain-language public information.
- Translation: documents and software text, AI-assisted and reviewed before delivery.

HOW WE USE AI

We use generative AI to write code, draft documents and translate. We tell you in writing before work starts where it will be used, and a person reviews everything we deliver.

WHO DOES THE WORK

Safahi Publishing is a principal-led firm. Alan Safahi does the work himself and adds specialist subcontractors when a project needs them. He is a technology executive who has founded and run software companies for four decades. He advises Fortune 500 executives on AI and data-analytics strategy, and he built and runs a community app on iOS, Android and the web in more than 40 languages, including right-to-left scripts. MBA, USC Marshall School of Business; B.S. Mechanical Engineering, California State University, Fullerton.
